MOVEMENT OF SUMMER AND FALL APPLES

Committee Of Direction Will Not Permit Shipment Of Wealthies Until Fully Matured

Apples
Duchess shipments have now started in good earnest. The Committee of Direction has set prices of $1.25 for crates and $1.60 for wrapped. Conditions seem to be favourable for a free movement.
Much interest has been taken in the Wealthies and their relation to the Duchess. The Committee will not permit any Wealthies to move until they are fully matured according to the reports of the Fruit Inspectors, nor until the Duchess deal is fairly out of the way. This will permit of the Wealthies attaining a desirable degree of maturity and attractiveness, thus helping their sale on the Prairie market.
Later, the Committee will endeavour to see that the McIntosh crop does not move until well coloured. There seems no reason why Macs should be rushed on to the market, considering their excellent keeping qualities and the fact that, even if they have been picked, the grower can do his share in holding back his fruit in the orchard without congesting the packing houses.
On the whole, with the co-operation of all concerned, and with fully receptive markets, it looks as if the forthcoming apple season should be more satisfactory than some that have preceded it.

Tomatoes
The Committee has had something to say about semi-ripe tomatoes recently, and in that connection has received a statement from a jobber on the Prairie which reads as follows:
"In the past there has been a tendency on the part of B. C. shippers to ship a lot of junk in their tomato crates. Possibly they cannot be blamed, considering the low prices that rule at the peak of the season. This class of stock just tends to demoralize the market and neither the jobber, retailer nor consumer is satisfied, no matter how cheap it is. There is nothing more aggravating to a jobber than to get tomatoes dead green and soft ripens in the same crates. We would mention the very unfair practice of the shippers of including absolutely dead green tomatoes in the crates at the first of the season when the price is at the very peak. Jobbers simply cannot send them out to their customers in that condition. They therefore have to repack them and set aside the greens to ripen, and before they are ripe the price is down 50 per cent. We sold one customer an express shipment of about eighty cases when the price was very high. The writer was present when they were repacking them and they were at least one-third unsaleable and will be unsaleable for at least another week. This jobber had tomatoes rolling by freight and the only reason he bought by express was that he needed them for immediate sale. The jobber feels, and we agree with him, that he is entitled to some kind of protection on a deal like this."

Celery
The same jobber has the following to say on celery, though it ought to be remarked that, so far as the Okanagan Valley is concerned, the celery movement appears to have been free and satisfactory.
"This is a commodity on which the consumption at this time of year is greatly over-estimated. Yesterday the writer made the rounds of every fruit jobber in Calgary and with only one exception we saw celery unfit for sale in every jobbing house; this in the face of the fact that they were buying only a few crates at a time. We were just in time to see one jobbing house dumping twenty-two 50-lb. boxes of washed celery that they had brought in by express."

Cantaloupes
Cantaloupes are just beginning. The supply is not so large as last year but should be ample for the market.
Potatoes
The price on red potatoes had to be dropped again to $25.00, on account of Coast competition. Price on whites remains at $28.00.
The Nelson, Creston and Grand Forks districts were visited last week by a special representative of the Committee, Mr. J. H. Aberdeen, who was able to be of considerable assistance to the shippers there.
The Chairman also visited Salmon Arm on Friday, August 5th, and spoke on the operations of the Committee at a luncheon of the Board of Trade there.

DOLE PRIZE FLIGHT MAY BE POSTPONED
OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 11.—Postponement for two weeks of the Dole $35,000 prize flight to Honolulu was recommended today by the flight starting committee in a cablegram sent to the Honolulu Chapter of the National Aeronautical Association, Capt. C. W. Saunders, chairman of the local committee, announced. The message states: "Preliminary examination has shown that neither the men nor the planes are ready for the long 2,400 mile hop across the Pacific."

DANGER FLAGS ALONG SHORE DESTROYED

Warning Signals Placed By City For Protection Of Life Are Wantonly Damaged

The members of the City Council were present in full strength at the regular fortnightly session on Monday night.
A Question Of Drainage
Mr. W. O'Neill, Manager of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange, waited upon the Council and asked that drainage conditions along the streets bounding the Exchange premises be improved so as to dispose of surface water in rainy weather. Considerable damage had been caused last year to produce stored in the basement of the buildings, owing to the lack of proper drainage on that side of the street for rain water discharged by the down pipes from the roof. Eighteen months ago, he had offered to carry out the necessary drainage work on the street, but he had been told by Superintendent Blakeborough that he must not interfere with the roadway. There was an adequate drain on the other side of the street, and all that would be necessary would be to carry a connecting drain across the street. He had asked repeatedly that the improvement be made and had received a number of promises that the work would be carried out, but nothing had been done so far, and he was anxious that the drain be put in before the heavy hauling of apples started and before the usual wet fall began.
Ald. Meikle, chairman of the Board of Works, assured Mr. O'Neill that the matter was on the programme of work outlined by the Board but it was not possible to get at it until the oiling of the streets was finished, owing to the necessity of spreading the oil as soon as it arrived, in order to save demurrage, and the fact that the regular staff was short handed and the absence of two of its members, including Mr. Blakeborough, on vacation.

Objectionable Sanitary Conditions
Mr. M. H. Lee formed another deputation of one to complain of certain objectionable sanitary conditions existing in proximity to the premises of the Occidental Fruit Co., Ltd. He considered that the owner of the property should be compelled to improve its sanitary facilities so as to bring them up to the proper standard.
Mr. Lee also asked that adequate police protection be afforded the industrial district during the operating season. Outside electric lights and windows were constantly being broken, and pilfering was frequent, fruit and produce being taken from the platforms of the warehouses. Replying to a query by the Mayor, he said he would favour a special constable being employed for about four months, if protection could not be provided by the present force.

The Mayor promised that Dr. W. J. Knox, Medical Health Officer, would examine the sanitary conditions as to which complaint had been made, and the matter of police protection for the industrial district would be brought before the Board of Police Commissioners at their next meeting.

Beach Avenue In Need Of Repair

A letter from Mr. C. H. Jackson drew attention to the bad state of Beach Avenue, which was full of potholes, and there was also a large sand pothole at the entrance to the Avenue from Abbott Street. He had been resident on Beach Avenue for seven years and during that period no repairs had been effected on that street, although all the other avenues and streets in the vicinity got their quota of shale.
Ald. Meikle said it was difficult to keep Beach Avenue in repair because some of the residents on it made a practice of piling refuse and debris from their lots upon the street, but he would investigate its present condition with a view to improvement.

Tourist Agent's Report

According to a report forwarded by Mr. W. Crawford, Tourist Agent, fees collected at the Tourist Camp for the period from July 26th to August 7th, inclusive, totalled $50.50.

Cost Of Jubilee Celebration

Ald. Rattenbury reported that the expenditure on the local celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation ran to a little more than was expected, owing to the decision reached to hold sports, which were not on the original programme and had involved an additional outlay of about $100. The decision had been justified by the complete success of the games and by the large number who took part in them.
A formal resolution to the following effect was then passed: "That a grant of $400.63 be made to the local committee in charge of the commemorative Jubilee of Confederation to enable them to pay the accounts referred to in their letter dated August 6, 1927, also that the payment of $65.00 to the Orchard City Band for services rendered during the said celebration be confirmed."

Subdivision Plans Approved

Plans of a subdivision of part of District Lot 1, City of Kelowna, of Yale District, and of part of Block 35, Registered Plan 462, submitted by Mr. F. W. Groves, were approved.
By-Laws
Reconsideration and final passage was given to By-Laws No. 461, for the sale of Lots 75 and 76, R.P. 1102, to Mr. Alexander and Mrs. Alexander Wyrozub, for $125; No. 462, disposing

KELOWNA FOUR REPEATS VICTORY OF LAST YEAR

Kelowna Crew Again Defeats Strong Team From Vancouver—All Regatta Events Keenly Contested And Entries Show Large Increase—Many Visitors From Neighbouring Towns In Attendance

The twenty-first annual Kelowna Regatta is now a matter of history, and it is pleasing to record that it measured well up to the standard of successful predecessors, even if there was nothing particularly outstanding such as the visit of the Coldstream Guards' Band last year. Perhaps the most satisfactory feature was the large increase in the number of competitors, which necessitated the division of several events into heats, instead of running them off at one time. Not only were there more entries but the interest shown by participants was very keen and the events were very closely contested.

The weather, always a matter of supreme concern, was generally favourable on Wednesday with the exception of a short period during the afternoon, when the breeze freshened and made the water too rough for several events, which were postponed until the following day. Scattered clouds and a slight haze served to moderate the heat of the sun, and conditions were pleasant for spectators and competitors alike. Thursday also opened well, but the sky became obscured later with dark clouds of forbidding aspect, and it was fortunate that they did not carry out their threat of bad weather until between four and five o'clock, when a heavy squall blew up from the south, accompanied by thunder and lightning followed by a drenching downpour of rain, which enforced abandonment of the few items left on the programme. There was some consolation in the fact that there was no heavy fall of smoke from forest fires, as was the case last year, to veil the west side of the lake and render visibility poor of the long races.

Great joy was taken by the bulk of the spectators in the repetition by the Kelowna four of the splendid victory they won last year over a strong crew from Vancouver. Again the Kelowna men romped home winners by a handsome margin, and the crowd went wild with enthusiasm. Vernon made a good showing and showed marked improvement over last year. The race was rowed against a strong adverse breeze, so that the time of 6 mins. 54 1/2 secs. was considered excellent.

It was not expected, of course, that the attendance would reach the record figure of 1926, when the Coldstream Guards Band was a magnet to draw many people from points far and wide, but the number present compared very favourably with the average of past years and perhaps was larger than in 1925. Residents of the Kelowna district turned out well, as they invariably do, and the Kelowna Valley was represented, both north and south of the international border, while quite large contingents came from Kamloops and Revelstoke. On Thursday, the grand stand and bleachers and all available space at the Aquatic Pavilion seemed to be well filled.

The officials handled their duties well and the events were run to schedule as nearly as possible, despite the handicap of the unavoidable postponement through weather conditions, already referred to. Several of the day's events, which naturally encroached upon the time available today, The absence was regretted of Major J. C. MacDonald, Comptroller of Water Rights, who for many years officiated with much acceptance in the judges' stand. This year he was unable to come up from his new location at Victoria, but his place was ably filled by Mr. A. D. Marshall, also of the Water Rights Branch. Improvement was effected this year in the system of Lot 2, R.P. 662, to Mrs. Mary Emma Rankin, at $250, and No. 463, selling Lot 3, R.P. 662, to Mrs. Margaret Bruce Ferguson, at $250.

Three readings were given to By-Law No. 464, for the sale of Lot 11, Block 20, R.P. 630, to Mr. Albert Whiffin, at $500.

Danger Flags Destroyed

Ald. Knowles reported that it had been necessary to replace a large number of the danger flags placed along the edge of deep water on the lake front about a month ago as a warning to bathers. Most of the flags seemed to have been destroyed wilfully, as some were pulled out and others broken off. These flags were installed to protect people from drowning, and it was lamentable that they should be interfered with.

Vagrants Becoming A Nuisance

Ald. Morrison called attention to the number of tramps that now visited the town and made rounds of the houses, "bumming handouts" from the occupants. The invasion was undoubtedly an unfortunate result of otherwise beneficial railway connection, and could not be helped, but every effort should be made to "shoo away" such undesirable.

The Council adjourned until Monday, August 22nd.

of registration of events and competitors, and the records, were more accessible for purposes of information than at former Regattas.
The events were well run, and the Regatta, the diving especially, being of a high standard of excellence. Most spectacular in point of finish was the 300 yards swim, which was won by the redoubtable Johnnie Bayley, of Vancouver, by an infinitesimal margin from H. Murdoch, of Okanagan Mission. Both swimmers seemed to reach the finish line together but Bayley put his hand on the raft first. The same pair again had a splendid tussle in the one mile swim for the amateur championship of British Columbia, Bayley winning once more. Swimming under water and the open-plunge were also marked by many fine performances.

Among the rowing events the victory of Miss Winnie Day's crew in the contest for the Nichol Challenge Cup and championship of Okanagan Lake was conspicuous, the race being rowed in fast time against a strong head wind and in choppy water.

On Wednesday afternoon a skilful and interesting display of surf riding was given by Mr. Paul Tempest.

Owing to the downpour of rain late this afternoon, the projected baseball game between Summerland and Kelowna had to be abandoned.

At the conclusion of today's programme, the prizes were distributed at the Aquatic Pavilion by Mrs. H. S. Atkinson, wife of the President of the Kelowna Aquatic Association.

Music was supplied on both afternoons by the Orchard City Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster T. Finlay, and the programme of selections was much appreciated.

To enable visitors from southern lake points to witness the full programme each day, departure of the "Sicamous" was delayed until 9 p.m., and the Kelowna-Westbank Ferry ran early evening until midnight.
The business men of the town responded nobly to the request of the Regatta Committee that they decorate their premises. Flags and bunting were shown in profusion, and nearly every shop was specially decorated, attractive displays of goods being made. The grocery stores made very attractive exhibits of produce, fruit, vegetables and flowers. The prizes for the best decorated windows were awarded as follows: 1, P. B. Willis & Co.; 2, Ballard & McEwan.

A Regatta dance was held both evenings at the Aquatic Pavilion and was well attended.

CONDEMNED REDS GIVEN RESPITE BY GOVERNOR

Reprieve For Twelve Days Granted Sacco And Vanzetti, Who Were To Die Today

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Sacco and Vanzetti still live.
Though the high slitted windows of Charlestown Prison they glimpsed the pallid light of another day. It was a day they had not expected to see, and one which they did not know they were going to see until a scant half hour before they were to have taken the short march to the electric chair.

A respite for twelve days was given the condemned murderers late last night by Governor A. T. Fuller.
Outside the prison more than eight hundred police and State troopers, armed and vigilant, kept guard.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Judge Sander-son of the Massachusetts Supreme Court announced today that he would allow exceptions to go before the full bench in regard to his denial of a writ of error in the case of Sacco and Vanzetti.
The respite is until August 22nd.

WEDNESDAY EVENTS

The Regatta started under favourable auspices, the weather being all that could be desired. No time was wasted at the start and the various events were run off on time in the morning, all the necessary officials being on hand. In the afternoon there were so many heats in some of the events that the programme time could not be strictly adhered to, and, on account of there being a strong breeze and rough water, it was thought best to postpone some of the last events till the following day.

30 yards Swim, boys under 11.—Run in heats. First heat: 1, J. Thompson; 2, M. Chapin. Second heat: 1, R. Hayman; 2, O. Watson. Final: 1, J. Thompson; 2, M. Chapin; 3, R. Hayman. Time: 22, 25 secs.

30 yards Swim, boys under 14.—Run in heats and a very good contest. First heat: 1, W. Sands; 2, C. MacLaren. Second heat: 1, G. Renals; 2, F. Burr. Final: 1, camera, W. Sands; 2, Drummond's poetical works, G. Renals; 3, shoes, F. Burr. Time: 18 and 2-5 secs.

30 yards Swim, girls under 11.—Only one entered for this event, which was won by a wide margin, 1, cup and saucer, Essie Walker; 2, chocolates, Mona Longfellow; 3, ball, E. Willis. Time: 27 and 2-5 secs.

30 yards Swim, girls under 14.—This was an excellent contest, run off in heats. In the final Margaret Aitken and Mary Murdoch tied for first place, the former winning in the swim-off. First heat: 1, M. Aitken; 2, Mary Murdoch. Second heat: 1, Eileen Cross; 2, Audrey Hughes. Final: 1, M. Aitken; 2, silk stockings, M. Murdoch; 3, chocolates, Audrey Hughes. Time: 23 and 2-5 secs.

Relay Race, boys under 14, 120 yards.—Two teams competed: C. MacLaren, F. Burr, G. Renals and A. Williams; and W. Sand, B. Knox, W. Cross and C. Dore. A fairly easy win for MacLaren's team, who won four flashlights. Time: 1 min. 23 and 1-5 secs.

Diving, boys under 16; running high and low springboard and 14 foot standing, for Pacific Box Company's Challenge Cup.—The following boys entered and gave a fine exhibition of diving: H. Ryan, F. SPECTACULAR BLAZE IN VANCOUVER IS COSTLY

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11.—Visitors to the Vancouver Exhibition yesterday beheld an added but costly attraction when the McNair shingle mill suffered a fire loss amounting to the neighbourhood of $500,000, furnishing one of the most spectacular mill fires seen here recently.

CHARGES AGAINST CANADIAN BUYERS OF ENGLISH CLOTH

DEWSBURY, England, Aug. 11.—Grave charges against certain Canadian customers of cloth manufacturers of the West Riding of Yorkshire were aired at a meeting of the Dewsbury Chamber of Commerce.

C. T. Lyles, President of the Chamber, stated that at a recent meeting of presidents of Chambers of Commerce in the West Riding it was shown that large quantities of West Yorkshire clothing exported to Canada were being submitted by Canadian buyers to spongers and shrinkers, who found alleged defects in the cloth, and as the result, drastic claims were made for damages against the makers of the cloth in question. These claims were made some times six to twelve months after the cloth had been paid for, and at a time when it possibly had gone out of fashion, Mr. Lyles said. It was charged that this practice was being deliberately followed by certain Canadian buyers to enable them to evade their contracts with the manufacturers.

TWO HURT IN SOUTH SLOCAN HOTEL FIRE

NELSON, Aug. 11.—Pinehurst Inn, at South Slocan, was destroyed by fire this morning, and two men were painfully burned.

SACCO-VANZETTI SYMPATHIZERS RIOT IN LONDON

Mounted Police Disperse Huge Mob Incited To Disorder By Inflammatory Speeches

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Order was restored by the police early today after a violent outbreak of rioting when thousands of Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers, led by men and women Communists, late last night tried to march upon the United States Embassy in Grosvenor Gardens. Thirty-five persons were injured when mounted police drove into the wildly shouting mob in an effort to disperse it. It was the worst disorder that England had seen since the general strike last year.

The riot followed a mass meeting of ten thousand people in Hyde Park at which inflammatory speeches were made. A. J. ("Emperor") Cooke, leader of last year's coal strike, declared: "I warn you, I warn America, that if they murder these two men, we will get even with them."
At the conclusion of the Hyde Park meeting, Cooke urged the demonstrators to march upon the American Embassy and make a show of force in the hope that Ambassador Houghton (at present on vacation in Scotland) would be frightened into cabling the State Department to urge that the death sentences on Sacco and Vanzetti be remitted.

Red flags and "Internationale" were waved and singing "The Red Flag" and "Internationale" was heard. The mob tried to fight past a cordon of policemen into Grosvenor Gardens. Mounted police rode in and out, attempting to break the crowd into groups but were unsuccessful. The situation began to get ugly by midnight and orders were given for the mounted police to charge the mob with drawn batons in an effort to force it back towards Hyde Park. The police in massed formation drove their horses into the press, forcing the crowd into the side streets amid the shrieks of women, many of whom fainted and had to be taken into adjacent houses for first aid treatment.

The crowd scattered in all directions, fighting and struggling with the police. Finally the police cleared a block round the Embassy and gradually succeeded in forcing back the mob towards Hyde Park. The demonstration had failed of its main objective, to reach the Embassy.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 11.—A series of explosions, believed to be caused by bombs, wrecked the State Theatre here early today, causing loss estimated at $400,000. After investigation, police and firemen dashed the belief that bombs were placed in the theatre by Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF EX-KING OF GREECE

GRATZ, Austria, Aug. 11.—An attempt to assassinate former King George of Greece at the railway station at Kikinda, near the Rumanian border, is reported today by the newspaper Gratzter Tage Post. An unidentified assailant, said to be a Rumanian journalist, broke through a police cordon and fired several shots into the former king's compartment aboard the train. None of the shots took effect, and the would-be assassin was arrested.

PRINCE OF WALES IS REAL ALBERTA RANCHER

HIGH RIVER, Alberta, Aug. 11.—The Prince of Wales has already got into the stride of a regular Alberta rancher.
Much to the surprise of the ranch staff, he was up and about the place, with a cheery word for every one, much earlier than was expected, and he looked as fresh as a daisy. Long before nine o'clock he had finished his breakfast of wholesome ranch fare and had commenced a tour of inspection of the stock.

The Prince appeared to be greatly pleased with the many improvements made to the ranch and outbuildings since his last visit and with the general indications of prosperity on his property. It is his intention to spend the day quickly in continuing his inspection and generally leading the life of a rancher in the sunny, carefree air of the Alberta foothills.

The royal party reached the ranch at night, travelling by motor.
It is stated by Professor W. L. Carlyle, manager of the ranch, that there will be nothing but the ordinary ranch routine during the stay of the party. The Prince of Wales and Princess George have arranged their plans and will spend Saturday in Edmonton.

STUNT ARTIST PLUNGES OVER CLIFF TO DEATH

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 11.—Eldon Honn, 37, of Los Angeles, motorcycle stunt rider, plunged to his death over a three hundred foot sea cliff here today when the parachute supposed to float him down to the beach became entangled in his heavy motorcycle. Honn was doing the stunt for a motion picture manufacturing concern.

The Provincial Summer School closed last week, when over three hundred teachers from all parts of the province left Victoria for their homes, nearly all with additional diplomas to their credit.

LUCID ADDRESS ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Rt. Hon. Sir George Foster Explains Constitution And Purposes Of World Organization

Last Friday evening an audience of some three hundred people listened with marked attention and sustained interest to a lengthy and most informative address on "The League of Nations," delivered in an entertaining manner by Canada's veteran statesman and orator, Rt. Hon. Sir George Foster, K.C.M.G., and it is safe to state that never in the history of the city has a more attentive gathering hearkened to the statements of any lecturer.

Earlier in the day, Sir George was entertained by the Kelowna Board of Trade at a luncheon tendered him at the Eldorado Arms, at which he made an excellent speech, much appreciated by all who heard it, many of whom took advantage of the evening meeting to hear a further account of the history and achievements of the world-wide organization known as "The League of Nations."

Previous to the meeting, the Orchard City Band, stationed in front of the Scott Hall and under the direction of Bandmaster Finlay, played a number of selections and also played "O Canada" when Sir George arrived and, accompanied by Mr. W. R. Trench, President of the Board of Trade, and Mayor Sutherland, had taken his place on a temporary platform placed on the floor near the entrance of the building and decorated with flags and bunting.

Mr. Trench, in opening his proceedings, said he was gratified to see so many present to listen to Canada's representative at the Assembly of the League of Nations. Having heard that Sir George Foster was in the neighbourhood, the Council of the Board of Trade had got into communication with him and had asked him to be their guest at a luncheon and to address a public meeting later in the day. There was no man in Canada, who could speak better on the subject of the League of Nations than the speaker of the evening. The Board of Trade had tried to make arrangements to have the public meeting held in the City Park, but that had not proved possible. He wished to congratulate Sir George on the wisdom he had displayed in selecting the Okanagan Valley in which to spend a holiday, and it afforded him pleasure to present him to the audience.

Sir George Foster, who was loudly applauded on rising to address the meeting, began his remarks by stating that he was glad personally that he had not been called on to speak at a gathering held in the open air. His voice had been in operation for almost eighty years and it would not have to be known that he would not have to make it reach an audience in the City Park. He wished to thank Mr. Trench for his compliment regarding his choice of a holiday resort, but this selection had one drawback. The Okanagan district and all he had seen in it had come fully up to his expectations, and even beyond them, except the Ogopogo, which had not shaken up. (Laughter.) He had enjoyed a very pleasant holiday, which was coming to an end only too quickly.

Continuing, Sir George remarked that he had tried to post himself as to how much people in this part of the country knew about the League of Nations, and, having heard that no public meeting had ever been addressed on that subject, thought it would be best for him to treat his present audience as a primary class, otherwise he would never reach the end of his subject. He was anxious to leave with his audience some clear idea of what the League of Nations really was and what had been accomplished by the efforts of the organization during the few years of its existence. He would therefore give an outline of the plan on which it had been organized. Information concerning it could not be obtained which would give a satisfactory explanation of its proceedings by simply reading accounts occasionally in the newspapers dealing with some of its business. He would therefore outline the plan on which it had been built up and fill in other information concerning its affairs after the manner of a teacher addressing a class and not wishing to detain his audience for too great a length of time on a hot summer's evening, he would ask himself some simple questions and then answer those questions.

Why A League Of Nations?

His first question, the speaker continued, would be "Why was there a League of Nations?" Past history, as all those who had studied history and especially those who taught it must know, had been full of periods when various nations had formed themselves into groups and had effected alliances with a view to mutually gaining some objective, but anything entirely like the international organization known as the League of Nations had not existed previously, it being an altogether new development in human life. Why did we have it? Not because men of vision had advocated it, though it had been advocated more than once. The question could best be answered by stating that the idea could not be brought to fruition without some tremendous object lesson and that that object lesson had been furnished by the Great War. Thus the League of Nations had come into being through the immense suffering caused by the Great War, and was, in fact, one of the very few good things which had resulted from that world conflict. In 1919, when

The Trip To Little White Mountain (1927)

During the night a freight train rumbled over the trestle but how soundly some of the party slept and how little they were disturbed by the bumpy, mountainous nature of the terrain underneath was shown by the fact that they never heard a sound. Yet again another one awakened with a jump and a whoop, thinking something terrible was happening but not knowing exactly what.

When we went to bed clear sky was predominating and stars brightly peeped forth all around, but not for long, for so quickly does the weather change in the mountains that almost while you can turn your head a cloud of mist will come shooting over the mountain top and turn your starry brightness into a dull and watery gray. That is what now happened but the actual rain kept off until 3.20 a.m. Then it began to fretfully and fitfully fall but just after 4 a.m. it made up its mind definitely what it wanted to do. Those of us who were in the open, except a small bunch of four who were under a very thick tree, had just time to get themselves with blankets and grub into the big tent. Fortunately, though, this down-pour only lasted a very short time and we were able to get ahead comfortably with breakfast. We made another big fire around which all those not around the cooking fire could get warm and it was certainly appreciated. Mr. Cameron also made another fire right inside the big tent to dry it out, which made it steam like the kettle on the stove.

The horses had to be fed and packed again but by about 8 we were all ready and while the horses forded the creek we all crossed on a log, off again on another stage of our trip. We might as well have forded the stream too, for not for long were we able to keep our feet dry, so wet was the grass and hush. However, the rain kept off until about 10 just as we reached Little Round Meadow. In 1924 we were almost eaten alive by mosquitoes here but this time they were almost unnoticeable, and only here at all on the whole trip from Crawford's Falls on. There was a shack at this spot with a supply of dry wood inside and, as a good wetting was now inevitable if we kept on, it was very tempting not to camp right there as a base for our final assault on the mountain top. We decided, though, to keep on and so did the rain! But while the weather was so downcast nobody's spirits were, and it was worth the whole trip in itself to see how cheerful everyone was under these not altogether comfortable circumstances. We now began to run across the odd patch of snow and the trail was more frequently a wiggly course than trail, so we had to nimbly pick our steps along the trail, and the Forestry men had it well cut out and the boggy places well corduroyed, which was a great help indeed.

About 12 noon the big boulders began to appear and we reached the foot of the peak, the northern end of which we skirted headed for Crawford's Lake over to the East. Here the party got separated into two parts but the hindmost ones eventually picked up the trail of the leaders and we all arrived at the beautiful little lake, also known as Mirror Lake, exactly at one o'clock. Coincident with our arrival the rain stopped, and well it might, for it had done its "darndest" anyway. All except grub and blankets and all except grub and blankets and all except grub and blankets. The wood is none too plentiful here and it was quite a feat to find some dry enough to start a fire, but eventually we did. The cooking fire came first and then another bigger one by which to get warm and dry. The sun now helped us out too by shining down upon us, and by the time dinner was over we had had anything on us for solid enjoyment.

There were still many black clouds in the heavens, so we could by no means feel sure that we had seen the last of the rain. After dinner, therefore, we decided we had better perfect our camp and be ready for all eventualities rather than do any more hiking that day. The lake is just about a mile from the mountain summit a few hundred feet lower down. Between the mountain and the lake is the divide where one way the water flows into the Kettle Valley and the other into the Okanagan. Crawford Lake is the source of one of the Sawmill Creek forks and the water is of a wonderful clearness. It is good drinking and always cold. No one was hardly enough after our wetting to go in bathing this day but numerous threats, wagers and boasts were being passed around as to what was going to happen tomorrow. There were patches of snow in several places around the shore.

The ashes of the warming fire were pulled away and the tent was put up over it while a shelter of horse blankets and canvases was stretched from it to a thick spruce tree, giving us a very snug-like home for the night, and all along the open side of this shelter we built first the cooking fire and then a great big log one.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From the files of "The Kelowna Courier")

Thursday, August 8, 1907

"Mr. A. Newbold, formerly of Tunbridge Wells, England, has bought twenty acres on the Bench from the Kelowna Land & Orchard Co."

"Freight received at Kelowna from outside points during the month of July amounted to 442 tons, shipments outwards to 204 tons. The freight received included large quantities of building material."

"Mr. R. Munson has purchased a 40 h.p. portable engine and a sawmill, which he will operate at Mr. J. Christensen's place, where there is some fine timber. The mill will saw about 12,000 feet per day."

"Mr. G. K. Salvage performed the feat on Sunday of swimming the lake, entering the water near the ladies' bathing-house and crossing to Siwash Point. He intended to attempt the return trip also, but found the water in the middle of the lake very cold, and, no doubt, to the strong winds of last week stirring up the deeper water, and he became so numbed that he had to abandon the return. We have been unable to get the exact time taken, but understand it was about fifty minutes, the chilliness of the water preventing rapid speed. The record for the distance, which is somewhat under a mile and a quarter, is held by Mr. W. D. Hobson and is about 33 minutes."

At two meetings of the City Council, held on August 1st and 6th, several matters of importance received attention.

It was decided to accede to a request of the School Board asking the Council in view of the large increase in school population to buy two acres for a playground and future site for additional buildings which would soon be required.

Messrs. R. F. Morrison and D. W. Crowley waited upon the Council with reference to a grant in aid of the Band, which was being reorganized. They requested a grant of $25 per month to the end of the current year and a sum of $50 to purchase a new bass horn. A grant was made of $150 to the end of the year.

Since the incorporation of the city in 1905 the duties of the municipal police constable had been multifarious, including the care and lighting of street lamps, maintenance of sidewalks and other repair work, and the Mayor expressed the opinion that the time had now arrived when Kelowna should have an officer who would confine himself solely to police work and sanitary inspection. Upon his suggestion, it was decided to redefine the duties of police constable, to strike out all reference to manual labour in the by-law governing police matters, and to ask the Police Commissioners to advertise for a properly qualified man.

The City Solicitor attended with a copy of a proposed by-law to raise money for a municipal water system. He recommended several changes in the draft of the agreement with Mr. F. Schneider, who proposed to supply the necessary power for pumping water into the city. Mr. Schneider the sole and absolute right to supply electric light, as that would be in restraint of trade. He recommended that the pumping day be defined as twenty-four hours, or whatever desired, and that water for gardens be included in the purposes for which water was to be pumped. The result was also some minor changes. The result was that the City Solicitor was requested to prepare a new agreement, embodying the necessary alterations, and to submit it at the next meeting of the Council.

the delegates of all the nations met to discuss and lay down the terms of peace, they met under unparalleled circumstances, the nations which they represented having gone through a series of trials hitherto unknown. The Great War had drawn in practically all the people of the world in one form or another, and therefore the first thing they thought of was to draw up some form of resolution stating the necessity of forming a league of nations to prevent similar world calamities in future years. This was the birth of the League of Nations, an object lesson to all mankind.

It must be remembered, Sir George stated, that the representatives of the nations which had formed the League were tremendously impressed with the awful horrors brought about by the Great War. The figures in that connection were startling. Ten million picked men, the very flower of the manhood of the contending nations, had been killed in battle or had died of war wounds. The population of Canada, men, women and children, was nine and a half million people. Just fancy, then, ranging ten million men in line, and those men being of the most virile type of manhood, and then, suddenly, consigning them to ruthless death. That was one object lesson.

The next object lesson which the delegates to the Peace Conference had was that the Great War brought about no less than twenty million casualties. Nor were these casualties among quite ordinary types of men, they were among picked men, the best of the world's manhood. All over the globe, even now, were to be seen the victims of war, stricken some in mind, some in body. They were to be found in very many homes and in countless public institutions.

would prevent future calamities of like nature. Therefore they resolved that they should not proceed one step until some method was devised to prevent a repetition of such world-wide horrors, and some thirty regularly appointed representatives drew up the general scheme for a league of nations to prevent future wars on a large scale. A committee was formed to look into the question forthwith and after three months of deliberation its members came to the unanimous conclusion that the constitution for the proposed league which they had drawn up was one which could be considered practicable. This constitution or covenant consisted of twenty-six articles, and its clauses were inserted in the treaties made by the Allies. The constitution could be considered as having been wrought out of the necessity of the case, if mankind were to survive. Thus the League of Nations had come into being.

How Does The League Operate?

Continuing, Sir George said the next question which he would ask and also answer would be "how does the League operate?" The League started with the idea that any two nations, being members, who became on unfriendly terms would have to submit their differences to the League and also to arbitration before settling such disputes by force of arms. All thinking people agreed that many wars had arisen in the past from want of reflection, the old idea being to resort to armed conflict before looking into the question in dispute as it might affect the opposing nation. Thus the new idea of referring a dispute to the League of Nations was an immense step in advance. This, in any case, gave each party ample opportunity to reflect in a calmer manner, and that meant that nine times out of ten war could be avoided, especially as the opinions of neighbours could be obtained, neighbours who would also be victimized to some extent if war were declared.

In this way the League, legally constituted by twelve nations immediately after the Great War, offered a practical way of settling international disputes. That this was recognized all over the world could be seen by the fact that before the year was out forty-two nations had joined it and that its present membership included no less than fifty-six different peoples. This was evidence that great progress had been made since it was founded. Last year Germany was admitted to membership, and all Germany's former allies also were members, with the exception of Turkey. The question would therefore be asked, "what nations have not joined the League?" The answer was, "Afghanistan, Ecuador, Mexico, Russia and the United States of America." The first three countries counted for little, but the other two were of importance. Russia had not joined the League because its present policy was opposed to the constitution of that body. However, the League was doing its work without Russia's aid, and that country would doubtless join up at some future date. The case of the United States was different. That country had entered the world conflict at a late period and unfortunately there had been a difference of opinion between the Republican and Democratic parties as to foreign policy. Therefore the United States Senate had refused to ratify the treaty made by the representatives of other nations and to join the League. This did not mean that the people of the United States were not in sympathy with the general scheme of a league of nations. He, the speaker, felt sure that they were as much in favour of the general plan of a league to prevent war as any other people. As things were now, the United States, though not a member of the League, co-operated in the work undertaken by that body in many ways. People who wished to see the United States join the League should have patience. We did not criticize that country for joining in the Great War at a late period and we should not criticize it now for its slowness in applying for League membership. What should be a matter for all-round congratulation was that the affairs of the world had so altered that some fifty-six nations had joined the league against war while only so very few of any importance whatever had not done so. (Applause.)

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The Council
The League, Sir George went on to explain, did its work through three channels, the Council, the Assembly and the International Judicial Tribunal. The first mentioned, the Council, was like a governing body and held that relationship to the Assembly, which was made up of representatives from the various nations. The Council was composed of delegates from the five Great Powers, Great Britain, Japan, Italy, France, Germany and the others elected by the Assembly, totalling four in all. Its duty was to enforce and secure action on any matter when the Assembly was not in session. Power had been conferred on the Council by treaty and its fourteen members sat as a body which had to do with the affairs of fifty-six nations. They discussed the questions submitted to them calmly and quietly and the old criticism levelled at this Council, that its members would never agree among themselves, had not been verified. This was because they were men of wide experience in international affairs and when they spoke or acted they did so as men accustomed to authority. Thus Sir Austen Chamberlain represented the British Empire, Mr. Briand represented the will of France and the other leaders were symbolic of great and small powers, a combination which earned respect. There was one peculiar thing connected with the constitution of the League, that all its decisions must be unanimous if they were to be enforced. At first this appeared to be an insurmountable obstacle, and it certainly would be in most business affairs, and this clause in the covenant had been much criticized. But what had been the net result? The Council met six times each year. It had held forty-four sessions, each lasting from ten to fifteen days. It had made some two thousand decisions and only once in all this long series of debates had unanimity of decision been absent. (Much applause.)

The Assembly
The Assembly, Sir George explained, met once a year at Geneva, its sessions lasting from four to five weeks. Each nation sent three delegates, who were elected by the members of the League. The Assembly is composed of some 150 to 160 members who vote through a third of the membership.

Next, the speaker gave a vivid word-picture of a meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations. He described how the delegates met at the celebrated Hall of the Reformation, men of almost every race, colour and creed and clothed in a great diversity of national costumes. As the first session the delegates were all strange to each other, but it was a highly pleasing sight to see how they one and all were imbued with the idea of abolishing war. The diversity of languages they spoke was enormous, but Providence had provided a solution to this apparent obstacle to unity, well as to the ancient and difficult question of official precedence. It was suggested by some practical person that the delegates be seated alphabetically. Out of the forty-two present at the first Assembly seventeen spoke Spanish, but the language difficulty was also solved in a common sense way by adopting two official languages, French and English, and arranging that when a delegate spoke in either tongue his remarks would be immediately translated into the other by one of the official interpreters. These two initial questions having been satisfactorily solved, the important point of securing mutual acquaintanceship was tackled. The Assembly had been divided into six committees composed of one member from each nation, and in an astonishingly short time each delegate got to know almost all the others. Still another thing helped. Each delegate met others at breakfasts, lunches, afternoon teas, dinners and banquets. Thus out of a most cosmopolitan gathering a united body had been formed which elected its officials without difficulty. The using of two languages for all business had proved to be no hindrance, as official translators of great talent had been secured and it was possible to get the spirit of any address in the translated version bereft of useless verbiage. In fact, the interpreters in most cases made better speeches than the original orator.

During debates at the Assembly no orator was permitted to "pitch into" another. Sir George explained, it being the established rule that every speaker before addressing the body had to send in his name to the Presiding Officer and wait his turn. Thus often a delegate, who otherwise would have risen from his seat and made hasty and unpleasant remarks, would walk around the aisle or go outside and debate with himself whether he really had something worth saying or not. This did away with lots of hot air. (Laughter and applause.) Since he had been Canada's delegate at the Assembly he, the speaker, had never heard a passionate or disrespectful speech made there. (Loud applause.)

In its decisions the Assembly was also bound by the same rule as the Council, that of the necessity of a unanimous vote and it was highly instructive to know that only once had that body failed to secure that unanimous vote. (Applause.) The reason was that the delegates one and all were men imbued with a high ideal, that of the abolition of war, and nobility of sentiment was thereby created. The delegates had no petty jobbery to think about and no petty matters to occupy their attention. Here, in Canada, politicians were often obliged to consider how bridges should be built where there was no water, in order to satisfy party hangers-on. (Laughter.)

The Supreme International Tribunal
The third section of the League of Nations was the Supreme International Tribunal at The Hague. Immediately after the League had been founded a body of distinguished jurists had been secured, who had met as a committee and after grave deliberation had come to the unanimous conclusion that such a Tribunal could be formed and made to work in a practical way. Their recommendations as to procedure, etc., had been endorsed by the Assembly and sent to every Legislature in the countries represented in the League of Nations, all of which had given legislative approval of the scheme. Thus a High Court of Nations had been created officially by each country subscribing to the ideals of the League. The Tribunal consisted of nine presiding judges and five lesser judges and met at The Hague in the beautiful structure provided by the generosity of the late Mr. Andrew Carnegie. He, Sir George, knew a famous lawyer in England who at first thought that no country of any importance would submit affairs touching its policy or honour to an international tribunal, but who had altered entirely his opinion on that subject after seeing how the system worked and how the Tribunal's decisions were being obeyed. (Applause.)

Sir George then, at considerable length, quoted some of the international disputes which had been already settled at The Hague, the one between Germany and Poland re right of shipping in the Kiel Canal, the dispute between Great Britain and France re the right of the latter country to conscript British subjects in Tunis, and others, all of which had proved that even sovereign nations were willing to submit their affairs to judicial arbitration after having pledged themselves to do so. In fact, in the seven years of its existence the League of Nations had accomplished wonders and made a complete revolution of the methods of conducting foreign relationships. Through its efforts five incipient wars had been nipped in the bud, wars which once started might have developed into large conflicts; some five hundred thousand prisoners of war had been repatriated; one million, four hundred thousand Greek refugees from Turkey had been brought home and taken care of after the war between the two countries; the finances of Austria had been placed on a sound basis when financial ruin stared that country in the face; and many other things of great importance had been accomplished because financiers, statesmen and those who had charge of the world's affairs had confidence in the League and admired its objective.

League Of Nations Society.
After giving a truly dramatic account of some of the most important meetings of the Assembly at which he had been present as Canada's representative, Sir George described the scene when Germany, eight years after the Great War, had been admitted to League membership, and remarked that the League of Nations still had plenty of business to transact and that its existence as an agent for good would depend on the hearts of the people of all nations. He therefore would like to tell those present that in Canada there was an Association of the League of Nations, of which he, Sir George, was President. Its work consisted in addressing such gatherings as the one held that evening and getting people interested in the objective of the League, in publishing a monthly paper, sent to all members, and in trying to secure the sympathy of the press in all matters undertaken. Some five years ago those who advocated the aims of this Association had met with rather a cold reception, but now all the way from Sydney, N.S., to Victoria, encouragement was given by all classes of people. The leaders of all the political parties in the Dominion were Vice-Presidents of the Association, it being understood that the League and its affairs were quite outside of any party politics. Lectures on the work of the League were given in schools and the speakers met with hearty receptions. It was hoped that 25,000 members of the Association could be secured in Canada instead of the 6,000 now making up the membership. There were different classes of members: associate members who paid $1.00 per annum and who all received the Association's bulletin; those who paid $2.50 and who also received the Geneva summary; those who subscribed as a family and secured a family ticket for $5.00; and contributing members who paid $10.00. He wished those present to bear in mind that for eight and a half cents per month they could help along a good cause. He asked some gentlemen in the audience to hand round subscription lists on which those present could sign their names.

While six gentlemen handed round the printed subscription forms, which were signed by many present, Sir George alluded to the convulsion in China, remarking that the League of Nations was in no position to stop the horrible conflicts raging there, as there was no responsible government with which it could deal. He also made reference to the failure of the negotiations at Geneva for a decrease in naval expenditures, stating that the conference had not been called by the League but by President Coolidge, also that, as the British Empire's existence depended largely on the security of sea routes, it could be easily seen that Great Britain had to keep careful watch that nothing was arranged at any conference which would impair that security.

He concluded his able address by an eloquent appeal to those present to take the object lessons of the Great War to heart. It was the duty of all thinking people to find some method of settling small and big disputes by other means than by force of arms, but what other method had ever been devised more likely to secure this objective than the League of Nations? It would be better to settle international disputes by arbitration than to try to settle them by the loss of millions of human beings and untold want and suffering. He therefore asked all present to help in any way they could the efforts now being made by fifty-six nations to make war a past issue. (Prolonged applause.)

Mayor Sutherland Moves Vote Of Thanks

Before the meeting adjourned, Mayor Sutherland, in moving a hearty vote of thanks to Sir George Foster for his address, stated that all at the meeting would agree that no more interesting speech had ever been listened to in the city before. It could safely be stated that the speaker of the evening had done more for Canada than any other living statesman. Sir George had joined the Macdonald Government just eighteen years after Confederation. His place had been in the House of Commons, where he had had his part in all the great doings which had resulted in the development of the Dominion. (Applause.)

Mr. J. W. Jones, in seconding the resolution, said he had been amazed that Sir George was still able to speak eloquently for two and a half hours, which was in itself a feat few statesmen could accomplish. He had enjoyed immensely the descriptions given of the work of the League, and felt sure all at the meeting had received as much pleasure in listening to the speaker of the evening as himself.

In closing the proceedings, Mr. Trench expressed the hope that Sir George Foster would try to spend other holidays in the Okanagan, and, after Sir George had made a short reply of thanks to the audience for the attentive hearing given him, the National Anthem was sung and the gathering dispersed.

At the meeting one hundred and thirteen new members were secured for the Canadian Association of the League of Nations and the sum of $138 collected. We are asked to state that the

RUTLAND

The Community Hall was a blaze of colour on Thursday afternoon, when the Women's Institute held their third annual Flower Show. The judges, Mr. Ben Hoy, of Kelowna, and Mr. Evans, of Vernon, must surely have had difficulty in awarding the prizes. Though the day was rather warm for comfort, the show was well patronized, and the floral display well repaid for any inconvenience caused by the heat. Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., officially opened the proceedings and particularly mentioned the large number of decorated tables, of which there were sixteen, just twice those of last year. Mr. Jones remarked that he was glad he had not had the judging of them, for he would feel like giving a prize to all sixteen. Our flower show was about the best for variety, etc., he had seen this summer, and he had attended all in the valley. He should have liked to see more sweet peas shown; many people seemed to think that sweet peas could not be grown to the best advantage here, but if they got expert advice as to soil, situation, etc., he felt sure more would be successful. The number of entries this year was very good, twenty-eight; it was too bad that two more had not competed, to make it an even hundred entries. Mr. Jones also remarked on the beauty of the gladioli, which, he said, was equal to anything in Kelowna.

Following is the prize list:
Sweet Peas, four named varieties, three spikes each; Rutland district only; Jones silver cup; Greville Harrison. Sweet Peas, best three spikes, named, one variety: 1, Miss Bent, Kelowna; 2, Miss Anderson, Kelowna. Gladioli, two named spikes, one variety; prize donated by Mr. W. J. Palmer: 1, Mrs. Campbell; 2, Mrs. Weeks, Kelowna.

Gladioli, collection of four varieties, one spike each, named: 1, Mrs. T. M. Anderson; 2, Mrs. Weeks. Dahlias, best collection: 1, Mr. Blakey; 2, Gladys Vanidour. Asters, best collection: 1, Miss Haug, Kelowna; 2, Mrs. W. McDonald. Antirrhinums, best collection, three containers: 1, Mr. Anderson; 2, Mrs. Duggan, Winfield. Zinnias, best collection: 1, Mr. Gervais; 2, Mrs. Cameron, Kelowna. Pansies, best bowl: 1, Mrs. Prowse, Winfield; 2, Mrs. W. McDonald. Phlox, best collection (perennial), three containers: 1, Mrs. W. McDonald; 2, Mrs. Royle, Kelowna. Phlox, best collection (annual), three containers: 1, Mrs. Vanidour; 2, Miss Anderson.

Perennials, best display, arranged by exhibitor: 1, Mrs. W. McDonald; 2, Mrs. Prowse. Annuals, best display, arranged by exhibitor: 1, Mrs. W. McDonald; 2, Mrs. Fitzpatrick. TAKE NOTICE that at the expiration of four weeks from the first publication of this notice, I, WALTER EXPORT COMPANY LIMITED, will apply to the Registrar of Companies, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B. C., for permission to change its name to BRITISH LANDS LIMITED.

Dated at Kelowna, B. C., this 25th day of July, 1927.

Solicitor to the Company.
First publication of this notice, 28th July, 1927.

It will be interesting news to many that the largest rose gardens in Canada are to be seen at Sardis, where some sixty thousand plants bloom in summer time. These rose gardens are being increased in extent this year and new varieties added to the three hundred different ones already planted. Some idea of the extent of this B.C. industry, which supplies rose plants to all parts of the Dominion, including the Maritime Provinces, can be gleaned from the fact that a quarter of a million cuttings are now being prepared there for budding at a later period.

North Vancouver is to have a $30,000 natatorium, built on similar lines to the celebrated Crystal Gardens, Victoria.

ROAD CONNECTION WITH KETTLE RIVER

The announcement that the directors of the Automobile Club of British Columbia has endorsed the proposal for road connection between Kelowna and the West Kettle River, and is actively canvassing the Provincial Government on its behalf, is very gratifying to all who desire to have established direct means of communication between the Okanagan and the mining camps of Beaverdel and Carmi, but it is to be hoped that the merits of an alternative route from Kelowna will receive careful investigation before deciding upon utilization of the existing road to McCulloch as part of the proposed highway. We refer to the possibilities of a route through Joe Rich Valley to the Kettle River, a scheme which was advocated two or three years ago, but since has sunk into obscurity. It is claimed that there is a pass at the east or south-east end of Joe Rich Valley which crosses the mountain range between the Okanagan water system and the Kettle River at a considerably lower elevation than McCulloch, which is 4,144 feet above sea level. The elevation at the Baillie property, which is the furthest east of any cultivated land in the Joe Rich Valley, is 3,000 feet, so that, if the pass is really a good deal lower than the McCulloch summit, there should be a comparatively easy grade to it from the Joe Rich.

It is said that there are really two passes, but that one of them is a narrow box canyon strewn with huge boulders, which would involve a great deal of costly blasting in order to make a roadway, and that the other, although at a higher elevation, offers a more feasible and less expensive route.

Provided that a feasible pass can be found, there are several strong points in favour of the Joe Rich route as compared with that via McCulloch.

In the first place, there is a considerable quantity of good agricultural land along Mission Creek and a large area is under cultivation in the Joe Rich Valley, while the country between the K.L.O. Bench and McCulloch is practically uninhabited and little of it is fit for production. Connection with the mining camps round Beaverdel and Carmi would provide the farmers of Joe Rich with a ready market for the vegetables and other produce grown there and would aid in the development of suitable land along Mission Creek which is lying idle at present or is devoted only to pasture.

Another important consideration is that the existing road to the Joe Rich Valley is a fairly good one and can easily be improved into an excellent highway at comparatively low cost. Betterments are gradually being effected, a marked improvement being the construction some two years ago of an entirely new section of road from the Rutland Post Office to the Belgo, over which any ordinary car can travel in high gear. While the grade of the climb over the Buttes has also been so greatly improved that it offers practically no difficulties beyond some sharp curves, it is understood that the Dominion authorities have under consideration a plan to eliminate the Buttes altogether by a new route following the bank of Mission Creek. In any case, compared with the road to McCulloch, that to Joe Rich is much superior, both in surface and average grade.

It was understood early in the year that an appropriation was to be made for completion of the missing link between McCulloch and the Carmi. Nothing further has been heard of the matter. The action of the directors of the Automobile Club of B. C. in endorsing road connection between the Okanagan and Kettle River may result in some definite steps being taken, and it is to be hoped that before the project is committed to any particular route a thorough examination will be made of the country between Joe Rich and the Kettle River to ascertain beyond question whether there is a practicable pass at a lower elevation than the McCulloch divide.

WANTON FOLLY

It is difficult to comprehend the mental calibre of the people who have been guilty of criminal folly in destroying the danger flags placed by the City Council along the line of deep water on the City Park frontage. Small children are not in the habit of cruising alone in boats, yet the wanton mischief done corresponds to the irresponsible acts of juveniles, who have not yet reached the thinking age.

The Council seeks to save life and to prevent a repetition of such a sad drowning case as occurred in that vicinity a year ago, yet some brainless idiots undo the good by senseless destruction of the warning signals. Prompt steps have been taken to replace the flags, otherwise some of those who have destroyed them might by now have been directly responsible for the death of some visiting bather, unconscious of the existence of hidden danger in the form of a sudden drop of the sandy beach into a great depth of water.

Culpable in only a slightly less degree are those who throw stones or fire bullets at floating bottles and sprinkle bathing beaches with broken glass. Painful cuts are frequently received by bathers through this medium, and some of the most attractive beaches in the neighbourhood of the city, with fine, clean sand and not a stone to hurt the most tender of feet, have been spoiled and rendered dangerous by the practice of this selfish and foolish form of amusement. The least people could do who must smash bottles would be to have their fun in deep water, where the fragments would never bother any one but the fish—and they can probably look after themselves.

CORKY CORE OR BROWN CORE OF APPLES

(Experimental Farms Note)

This is the season of the year when attention is being drawn to Corky Core or Brown Core of apples. Its severity varies from year to year, but its prevalence during the last few years has caused a good deal of anxiety to many growers. This disease is characterized by the occurrence of yellowish-brown areas in the core and sometimes in the outer flesh of the apple, but shows no external evidence on the apple and it is only on cutting that one can be certain of its presence.

Investigations on the cause of the disease have been under way at the Field Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Summerland, B.C., for four years and while these are not yet by any means complete, many facts concerning the conditions under which the disease appears have been ascertained. A thorough investigation has, so far, failed to show the presence of any fungus or bacteria in connection with this disease. We believe that the trouble is altogether caused by an unfavourable growth condition, to which the trees suffering from the disease have been subjected. The disease occurs on trees which have suffered from extremes in soil moisture conditions during the latter part of the growing season, that is, we find it on trees which have too much moisture and also on trees which have too little moisture during this period. These extremes appear to kill off the feeding system of the tree and there results therefrom an unbalanced condition in the buds that are to bear the next year's crop.

Control recommendations for the grower are: First, to see that there is no excess moisture remaining around the trees during the late summer and early fall. In our irrigated sections the danger of seepage is always present and the grower must make certain that it is not this condition that is affecting the trees. Second, where trees are growing on shallow, open soils, to see that the irrigation water is applied late enough in the year to prevent too much drying out of the soil between the time when the irrigation water is shut off and when the fall rains come.

Further details on this problem will be gladly furnished by the Summerland Laboratory.

Plant Pathologist,

AN AFTERNOON FROCK IN CREPE DE CHINE

For the less formal afternoon affair and as a change from flowered chiffon and printed chepe de Chine, is this charming frock in plain colour crepe de Chine, with hemstitching and a flower of the crepe de Chine as its only ornament.

The sleeves are long and slightly bloused over a tight cuff that is hemstitched. The fitted band over the hips is wider and is also hemstitched, while a narrow band of the material is in a bow with long ends and is placed at the front of the belt.

The finely pleated skirt may be separate, making it a two-piece dress or may be attached to the belt with an underlining.

AN OLD PHOTOGRAPH OF PRE-KELOWNA DAYS

Mr. W. Hinde, of Calgary, who paid a visit to Kelowna two weeks ago, has forwarded to us a photograph which he prizes very much, taken in the fall of 1890 on what is now a portion of the townsite of Kelowna and then was a prairie covered with long grass.

The picture shows Mr. Hinde mounted on a typical cayuse. In the near background is a long stretch of the familiar snake fence of the period, while further away is the Bankhead bench, and still further back, Dilworth Mountain and Black Mountain. The tall cottonwood timber along the course of Mill Creek in the neighbourhood of the Five Bridges, now almost entirely cleared away, is plainly in evidence, and the whole photograph forms an interesting memento of the appearance of the Kelowna flat before there was a house upon it, before any commercial orchards were planted and when cattle still constituted the king-pin industry.

The picture is too faded to expose to strong sunlight, otherwise we would place it in our office window, but it will be available for inspection within the next week or two, pending its return to Mr. Hinde, by any persons sufficiently interested to call at the Courier Office.

Voice over wire: "Madam, your husband has been run over by a truck!"
"Good heavens! On the afternoon of my bridge party!"

He—Do you love me?
She—Of course. Why should I make you an exception?—Everybody's Weekly.

"I see you have a sign in your store, 'We Aim to Please,'" remarked the irritated customer.

"Certainly," replied the proprietor.

"That is our motto."
"Well," retorted the customer, "you ought to take a little time off for target practice."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mr. J. B. Whitehead, who returned home from Australia last week, reports that conditions in that country did not appear to be very prosperous to him, labour troubles causing unrest and a general disturbance of business.

Mrs. C. W. Lees, who is staying with relatives at Summerland while Mr. Lees is taking a post graduate course at the University of Washington, was a visitor to the city on Friday. The family leave for Ottawa in about three weeks' time.

The following pupils of the local Pitman Business College have received their certificates for proficiency in elementary shorthand: Misses Frances M. Kincaid, Stella Lupton and Joyce F. McLeod, Gordon Meikle and James B. McClelland.

During the week from August 1st to August 6th, inclusive, the Kelowna Growers' Exchange made the following shipments: to prairie points, sixteen cars of mixed fruit and vegetables and one car of onions; to B.C. points, one car of onions only.

A heavy pack of semi-ripe tomatoes is being put up in the industrial district this week and mixed cars are being loaded with various vegetables, apricots, early plums and peaches. Early apples, mostly Yellow Transparent and Duchess, are also being shipped in mixed cars.

Twenty-five members of the Men's Vocal Club spent an enjoyable social evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Longfellow, Pendozi Street, on Monday, when the music for the next season was presented by the conductor, Mr. Donald Macrae. Several of the new numbers were rehearsed and some of the members present rendered vocal solos, after which refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

Messrs. W. Haug & Son started the burning of their first kiln of brick on Monday of last week. The operation was completed on Tuesday and was an entire success, 200,000 fine red brick having been turned out ready for the market. Fifteen men were employed in the work of making the brick, eight of whom found further employment during the burning, when they worked day and night in two shifts. The second kiln, consisting of 230,000 brick, will be burnt shortly. Each kiln requires over one hundred cords of wood to burn it properly.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kelowna Horticultural Society, held on Monday evening, it was decided that all classes at the coming late summer Flower Show would be open to all comers. Mr. Ben Hoy, Assistant District Horticulturist, was selected as the organization's representative at the convention of B.C. Horticultural Associations to be held at New Westminster on September 8th. It was announced that twenty-five prizes had already been secured for the coming local Flower Show and that the judging for the garden competition would be finished in time to have the results announced at the prize giving.

On Tuesday of last week, Mrs. Watkins, a lady from Australia who was the guest of the officers of the local Salvation Army Corps, got into difficulty when bathing close to the new ferry wharf and, finding herself sinking and being unable to swim ashore, called loudly for help. Her appeal was once responded to by Mr. W. Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Woods, Sr., who was working on the deck of the ferryboat and who jumped into the water fully clothed, just as Mrs. Watkins was sinking for the second time, and brought her safely to shore. It is generally considered by those who witnessed this plucky act that Mrs. Watkins' life was saved by the timely action of her rescuer.

It is not often that local residents have an opportunity of seeing world-wanderers, so the Auburn car of Miss Nell Wanderswell and party which reached here on Tuesday afternoon from Vancouver by way of the Fraser Canyon immediately attracted an immense amount of interest, especially as it was literally covered with licence plates of all the countries it had travelled through in its long journey of 373,000 miles. The tour was commenced in 1919 by Miss Wanderswell, who started from Atlanta, Georgia, and has since traversed twenty-one States and portions of Canada and Alaska, besides journeying in the same car in Hawaii, Mexico, several South American Republics, Cuba, England, France, Belgium, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, Holland, Germany, Poland, Russia, Greece, Turkey, Egypt, China and Japan. The party includes her secretary, a photographer, a pilot and a mechanic and educational pictures are secured of the most interesting places visited.

McCULLOCH-CARMI ROAD ENDORSED

Directors Of Automobile Club Of B. C. Support Project

Members of the Kelowna Branch of the Auto Club of British Columbia are very much gratified with the prompt action they have received in the matter of road recommendations from the directors at the head office. At a recent meeting of the local branch, following discussion of the project, a resolution was sent to Mr. F. J. Elkins, Manager, asking that the club support a move in favour of the McCulloch-Carmi road. Word has just been received that the directors have had a meeting, and have informed the government that this road is approved by them.

The matter of large road signs was also taken up with the head office and, while non-committal, they have asked for copies of the designs which it is suggested shall be used. Information has also been received that a large temporary sign is in course of preparation and will be placed in front of the Palace Hotel to indicate that this is the touring office of the club.

Arrangements have been completed with the authorities whereby Miss Dorothy Brown, local secretary, will be permitted to issue drivers licences and camp fire permits.

Miss Brown reports that the various service functions of the Auto Club are proving very popular with members. With the Kelowna Regatta a community affair and the majority of citizens giving full time and attention to it, little progress has been made on the drive for members which is officially on at present, but it is anticipated that as the work of the club becomes better known, and money freer, there will be a greatly increased enrolment.

Dr. Mathison left on Wednesday to spend a vacation of two weeks at the Coast.

Miss Katherine McLean, of Vancouver, is the guest of Miss Ethel Craig this week.

Miss Ollie Chamberlain returned yesterday from a month's holiday spent at the Coast.

Mrs. J. Silcock has as her guests Mr. and Mrs. T. Barrett, who motored here from California.

Mr. E. Blenkarn, of Rutland, returned from a trip to Vancouver, where he had been undergoing medical examination and treatment at Shaughnessy Military Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hubbard and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Blakeborough left on Sunday on a motor trip to the Coast, travelling by the southern route. They will return home by way of the Fraser Canyon.

Mr. A. J. Jones, who had the misfortune to dislocate his right knee last Friday while making preparations for the Regatta, was sufficiently recovered to be able to take in that event as in many past years.

The Bethel Regular Baptists held their Sunday School picnic at Okanagan Mission on Thursday last. The weather being ideal for bathing, games and recreation, the crowd, which numbered about sixty-five, spent a very happy and enjoyable time.

Mr. Andrew M. Frith, of R. P. Clark & Co. (Vancouver), Ltd., the well-known Vancouver manufacturer, spent part of last week and this in town as a guest at the Lakeview Hotel. He expressed himself as delighted with the beauty of the town and its surroundings, and he hopes to visit Kelowna again.

The Provincial Department of Public Works has still a large force of men engaged in improving that portion of the Westside Road which passes through the Summerland Municipality. It is expected that the work will be completed at the end of this month, when work will start on the same highway where it traverses the Peachland Municipality.

Owing to the large amount of canning tomatoes which are being shipped as semi-ripes, the quantity of tomatoes which has reached the three local canneries has not been sufficient to enable these plants to make steady runs. The Occidental cannery made a short run on Monday, the Dominion cannery worked two half days last week and also a half day on Tuesday, and the Rowcliffe cannery put through a run yesterday, but no steady canning at these factories will commence till the end of this week or the beginning of next week.

Mr. B. Irvine, Radio Electrician, Department of Marine and Fisheries, paid the city a visit last week, arriving here in "Car No. 8," which is fully equipped with instruments for detecting the cause of radio interference. While here Mr. Irvine tested transformers and other alleged causes of interference and expressed himself as being satisfied that radio fans here had to suffer less from that trouble than owners of radio sets in any other part of the Okanagan Valley. He travelled on to Penticton and will visit all points in this district before returning to his headquarters at Vancouver.

Work is to be commenced immediately on the construction of two bridges over the Nicola River. This will eliminate the "three mile slide" on the Merritt-Spence's Bridge highway, hitherto a source of great trouble to motorists.

Tulameen Lake, which has been several times stocked with trout by the Department of Marine and Fisheries, is proving a popular summer resort with residents in the Princeton and Coalmont districts.

SCOPE OF INQUIRY INTO IRRIGATION MATTERS

Investigation By Mr. W. G. Swan To Cover Wide Field

According to an official announcement in the "B.C. Gazette," the duties of Mr. W. G. Swan, of Vancouver, appointed to conduct an inquiry into irrigation matters, will cover many phases of the question, including "to inquire into the economic conditions in the several areas under irrigation projects in the Province for the construction or rehabilitation of which provincial moneys have been loaned from the Conservation Fund, and for that purpose he is authorized to enter upon and inspect the said irrigation projects and, on review of the history of the said projects and of all the conditions relative thereto, and on consideration of the evidence produced, to report on the conditions which led up to the creation of the Conservation Fund, and to report whether in his judgment:

"(1) The financial assistance rendered by the Province in 1918 and subsequent years was necessary and justifiable, and whether the methods adopted were advisable;

"(2) The improvement District form of organization was suitable to the conditions obtaining where the districts have been constituted;

"(3) The funds advanced have been expended to good advantage in all cases, and, if not, where the responsibility lies;

"(4) The operations of the Districts have been properly conducted and the duties of the Trustees conscientiously carried out;

"(5) The respective functions of the Districts and the Department are properly related;

"(6) The conditions and cost of irrigation in these Districts compares favourably or otherwise with those in the districts in the Province financed in other ways;

"(7) The cost of irrigation bears a reasonable relation to other costs of production and returns of various kinds of crops;

"(8) The increase in cost of irrigation since the systems under review were first constructed is attributable to the increase in labour and material cost during the same period;

"(9) The application of any of the bases of charges in operation under the reclamation services in the United States is feasible and advisable;

"(10) The adoption of a graduation of charges according to value of land or kind of crop is equitable or advisable;

"(11) The cost of irrigation has contributed to the lack of success in the fruit industry, and, if so, to what extent; and to make such recommendations as he considers may better the conditions prevailing in the districts."

The annual convention of the British Columbia and Yukon Press Association will be held this year at Nelson during the first or second week in September.

Crown Colony Days

Away back in the late sixties thousands of acres of British Columbia's timber were sold for one cent per acre, which looked like a fair price—then. To-day similar timber is worth from $150 to $200 an acre, so tremendously has timber appreciated in value within the scope of an average lifetime.

What the young growth of to-day will be worth sixty years from now is beyond computation if it is protected from fire and allowed to reach maturity.

The moral is obvious.

Current Prices and Market Conditions
 (From the weekly Bulletin issued by J. A. Grant, Fruit Markets Commissioner, Calgary).

Calgary, Aug. 6, 1927.

The Week in Calgary

The weather has been ideal this week for crops. Just a little too much moisture, which has kept the roads in soft condition, especially where travel is heavy. Business has been good during the week.

British Columbia fruit and vegetables seem to have a big preference on the market. Fourteen cars of mixed fruit and vegetables arrived here during the week, also 3 cars of potatoes. Ashcroft was in great demand. A car of tomatoes arrived today from Summerland.

Peach plums are now coming in from B.C. Bing and Lambert cherries are scarce and price to the retail trade is now $5.50 per crate. Island Olivet cherries, of good quality, passed through Calgary for Saskatchewan and sold there at $2.50 delivered. Raspberry market is very weak.

Business is good. The weather continues fine and warm. The berry deal is drawing to a close, and while arrivals are of considerable volume the demand is slowing down. On top of yesterday's arrivals we received part of a car (533 crates). This car was shipped July 29th, held over in Calgary on Sunday and part of Monday, and arrived here late Monday night and opened early Tuesday morning. This resulted in the market being rather overloaded and part of these berries were not disposed of till Wednesday, and, being over-ripe and soft, had to be jobbed. Tomatoes are crowding the market and some arrivals are in an over-ripe condition, which combination has a weakening effect on the market. Ont. Blueberries, 11-qt. basket, $3.25 to 3.50. OKANAGAN CENTRE

Mr. H. H. Evans, of the Horticultural Bureau, Vernon, was in the district on Wednesday of last week, and stated that he will now report the pear crop much larger than it appeared earlier in the season.

Quite a number of people from the Centre attended the Sports Day at Oyama on Thursday last, several returning in the evening for the dance.

The hot weather seems to have subdued the ardour of the tennis enthusiasts recently, as the courts were barely filled on Saturday and on Sunday only one lone singles was in action.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker motored to Mabel Lake on Saturday for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Maile left on Saturday for Vancouver, where Mr. Maile will go before the S.C.R. Medical Board for examination.

Miss Jean Purves, of Kelowna, was a week-end visitor at Mr. Collinson's.

By the endorsement of a special by-law by the ratepayers of Victoria last week, the building at the Capital of a grain elevator of one million bushels capacity is assured. The elevator will be erected at the Ogden Point docks at a cost of approximately $700,000.

Regina
The weather is cool with bright sunshine, just the kind of weather we need for Regina Fair, which is in full swing at time of writing.

The last shipments of B.C. raspberries arrived in splendid condition. There is not much shipping to country points this week, as most of the country merchants and their customers are attending the Fair.

The trade are kept busy taking care of the extra business created by thousands of Fair visitors, who are capable of absorbing large quantities of fruit and vegetables.

Car arrivals from July 28th to August 3rd—
Ontario—2 cherries, 1 cabbage, British Columbia—2 tomatoes, 5 raspberries, 8 potatoes, 1 vegetables, 3 apples, 1 onions, 1 cukes, bushel boxes, 1 cantaloupes, 11 bananas, 7 oranges, 2 melons, 2 cantaloupes, 1 apples, bushel baskets, 7 mixed fruit, 3 pears, 1 grapefruit, 2 peaches, 1 onions, 1 lemons, 3 apricots.

Very warm weather has prevailed during the past week, having a good effect upon the movement of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Imports have been rather heavy, running largely to California peaches and Washington apricots. Two straight carlots of Washington field tomatoes were also among the imports and sold at about the same price as the Okanagan product.

Plums are largely from California as yet, but a few of the Early Washington varieties are on the market. Duchess, Yellow Transparent and Gravenstein apples are also coming in in mixed cars from this latter source, supplementing the B.C. supply, which is still light. There are also light arrivals of Gravensteins from California.

A light but steady supply of cherries is still coming in from the coast districts of Washington, supplementing the B.C. supply. The price holds steady. There is much split fruit in evidence.

Salmon Arm To Play In Spencer Cup Fixture Here

This week's cricket fixture brings Salmon Arm to Kelowna in a Spencer Cup match, which is scheduled to commence at 1 p.m. sharp on August 14, at the Main Line Centre, the locals were defeated by a narrow margin, but they hope to reverse the result on their own pitch.

A strong team has been selected, consisting of the following players who will represent Kelowna this week:—H. Verity (Capt.), Dunlop, Oliver, Sutton, E. Matthews, M. M. McKenzie, H. G. M. Wilson, Mangin, Goldsmith and Davis.

TRAP SHOOTING

Haldane's Team Enters Semi-Finals For Latta Cup

High scores by Haldane, Lyell and Geet gave Haldane's squad a win over Moe's team in a Latta Cup shoot last week, and, as a result, Haldane now enters the semi-final round. Moe and Lyell, with 23, were high scores of the afternoon, but, apart from the captain, Moe's team could not break any large number of pigeons, and Haldane won 94 to 80.

Together with the winners of the Spurrier-Paul and Maxson-Thompson shoots, Haldane's team enter the semi-finals for the silverware, and the increased interest at the traps by the attendance at the weekly shoots has justified the committee's action in making the shoot for the cup a matter of elimination by rounds instead of the usual one day competition. Scores in the Haldane-Moe shoot were as follows:—Haldane, 22; Geet, 22; Lyell, 23; Rankin, 16; Avender, 11.—Total, 94. Moe, 23; Thorp, 13; Harvey, 12; Cameron, 14; Gripman, 18.—Total, 80.

USUAL LULL IN SPORT SETS IN

Summer Activities In Athletics Nearly At A Close

With lacrosse and baseball practically over as far as Kelowna is concerned, there will be the usual lull in sports apart from the remaining matches in the Spencer Cup cricket series and the finals for the Latta Cup trap shooting competition. Today's annual regatta marks the usual windup to the summer's sports activities, although the Kelowna Tennis Club, with their club tournament, and the renewed activities of the Golf Club next month, keep interest awake until the approach of winter.

Pentiction is staging a sports programme on Labour Day, September 5, and are asking for a football team from Kelowna to take part against a Similkameen eleven, also a tug-of-war team.

One feature of baseball this year is the fact that the Interior has been awarded the finals for the provincial championship in Senior B division, the winners of the Vancouver Island-Mainland and the Main Line-Kootenay series playing in the Interior on September 14, 15 and 16.

a fine race. Bayley took a slight lead from the start and maintained it throughout but could only increase it very gradually. At the half mile he led Murdoch by about thirty yards, eventually winning by about 80 yards. Arnott and Ennis did not complete the course. 1. gold medal and B.H.M. Cup, J. Bayley; 2. silver medal, H. Murdoch; Okanagan Mission; 3. bronze medal, M. McKenzie, Kelowna. Time: 28 mins., 35 secs. All three were loudly applauded.

Umbrella and Cigar Race.—This race was full of amusing features, the best swimmers forgetting to keep their cigars alight or finding it hard to handle their umbrellas. 1. waiting tray, J. Williams; 2. moccasins, D. Hinkson.

Ladies' 50 yards Handicap Swim, members of K.A.A. only, for K.A.A. Cup and bridge set, Annie Curtis; 2. sleeveless sweater, Joan Foster; 3. handbag, Margaret Burtch.

Fancy Diving.—Six competed, J. Bayley, J. Saucier, E. S. Williams, F. Burr and J. Williams, and the competition was close. 1. brass fruit bowl, E. S. Williams, 110 points; 2. shirt, F. Burr, 107 points; 3. J. Bayley, 96 points.

Novelty Swimming Race.—Only four entered this contest, which consisted in swimming in pants, socks and shirts over a bathing suit, undressing in the water, leaving one's clothes at the opposite point. Those who raced were F. Arnott, J. Williams, W. Cross and H. Ryan, the last of whom had an easy win, his undressing having been done with despatch. 1. shirt, H. Ryan; 2. shirt, W. Cross; 3. tie, F. Arnott.

Four Styles Swim, 120 yards, breast, back, side and free.—1. shoes, J. Bayley; 2. sweater, Miss Rita Tingley; 3. socks, W. J. D. Walker. No time kept.

Mixed Relay Race, 120 yards, two men and two ladies.—Three teams entered: Misses K. Ryan and A. Curtis, R. Weddell and V. D. Lewis; Misses Rita and Myrtle Tingley, J. Bayley and F. The race was won by four lengths by W. Jolley's crew, who received military brushes and bobette sets. Time: 3 mins., 47 and 2/5 secs.

Children's Race, under 8 years, 25 yards.—This was for tiny tots, of whom six competed. 1. chocolates, J.

Francis; 2. chocolates, P. Acland; 3. shirt, E. Ryan.

Victoria Cross Race.—Seven teams of two each entered this contest, which consisted in one partner going out in a canoe while the other stayed on the raft. When the canoes were lined up they made for the raft, the men on the raft at the same time swimming towards them and getting into the canoes, which were raced toward the raft. Expertness in handling the canoes from the water and wise generalship in letting the partner who was first in the canoe do most of the work helped to win the race. 1. card table and percolator, D. Lewis and W. Knowles; 2. Henry Murdoch and Donald Loane.

Sailing Race, Ladies' Cup and open.—Only two yachts entered this race, the yawl "Lady Molly," Paul Tempest, owner, and the catboat "Miralugo," owned by J. Clunes, Okanagan Centre. The "Lady Molly" won by about half a mile in a breeze which suited her. No time kept.

Single Sculls, for Breweries' Cup.—Owing to the small number of entries, heats, as provided in the programme, were dispensed with. Those who entered were: P. Sandberg, St. G. P. Baldwin, M. Paige and F. Groves. The race was a close one throughout. 1. smoking set, St. G. P. Baldwin; 2. gauntlets, M. Paige; 3. verandah chair, F. Groves. Time: 4 mins., 33 secs.

50 yards Swim, Ladies. Five competed and the race was a very even contest. 1. Princess slip, Miss Rita Tingley; 2. bathing suit, Miss Myrtle Tingley; 3. silk scarf, Miss Annie Curtis. Time: 34 and 4/5 secs.

By swimming the race over again, L. Williams and G. C. Wade endeavored to settle the tie for the day before for first place in the men's 50 yards handicap swim, with the extraordinary result that another dead heat ensued, and the decision as to who would take first prize was made by the tossing of a coin. 1. Thermos carafe and cup, L. Williams; 2. sweater, G. C. Wade; 3. linen handkerchiefs, K. Griffith. Time: 34 and 3/5 secs.

Special Outboard Motor Race, for 3 h.p. motors and under.—The following craft were entered: "Flea," P. H. Seeley; "Ann," H. T. Thom; "Mollie," R. L. Goldsmith; "Dipper," K. Taylor. 1. "Mollie"; 2. "Dipper"; 3. "Ann." Time: 27 mins., 26 secs.

300 yards Swim.—One of the best events of the Regatta, resulting almost in a tie for first place. Three entered the contest, but only two swimmers made the whole course. The race was won by a fraction of a second. 1. Oxford shoes, J. Bayley; 2. silver salver, H. Murdoch. Time: 4 mins., 4 and 1/5 secs.

300 yards Swim, ladies.—Eleven good swimmers started and the race was a fairly even one, except for first place. 1. lingerie set, Miss Rita Tingley (Vancouver); 2. lingerie set, Miss A. Curtis; 3. scarf, Miss Myrtle Tingley (Vancouver). Time: 4 mins., 46 and 3/5 secs.

Four-oared Race, 1 mile, for U.C.T. Cup and the championship of Okanagan Lake.—This year three crews competed representing Vancouver, Vernon and Kelowna, and owing to the race having been won by a Kelowna crew last year it excited more than ordinary interest. A fairly heavy head breeze was blowing at the time the boats started and the water was choppy. Kelowna took a slight lead almost from the start, though all three boats kept fairly well together for a third of the distance, Vancouver having the inside position, Vernon the middle position and Kelowna the outside course. All three boats kept well apart and their respective positions could be easily distinguished. As the race continued, Kelowna kept increasing the lead and Vernon, which had kept even with Vancouver for about two-thirds of the course, dropped gradually to third place. At the finish Kelowna led by three lengths, Vancouver also leading Vernon by the same distance. The result caused immense excitement on the grandstand. All three crews met with a rousing reception on coming in after the race. 1. U.C.T. Cup and the championship of Okanagan Lake, Kelowna, D. Loane, stroke, E. Makovski, 3. W. H. Carruthers, 2. G. Meikle, bow; 2. Vancouver, C. Cuthbert, stroke, A. Leech, 3. T. Boyle, 2. J. Hart, bow; 3. Vernon, S. Doupe, stroke, W. Davis, 3. G. Bride, 2. A. Billings, bow. Time: 6 mins., 54 2/5 secs.

Men's Breast Stroke, 50 yards.—Four competed, F. Arnott, W. Longley, J. Williams and W. J. D. Walker. 1. electric heater, J. Williams; 2. Pyrex roast-

W. J. D. Walker. Time: 26 and 3/5 secs.

High Diving.—Those who competed were R. Knox, R. Ryan, J. Saucier, H. McCarthy, H. Anderson, G. C. Wade, L. Williams, E. Williams and W. Boyd (Summerland). It was a splendid competition which elicited much applause from the spectators: 1. silver flower basket, E. Williams, 116 points; 2. silver comfort, H. McCarthy, 114 points; 3. inkpot-clock, J. Saucier, 111 points.

Home-made Canoe Race.—Only two canoes competed, one manned by four and the other by two lads. 1. paddle, "Seabawk," D. Lucas; 2. fishing rod, reel and line, M. Meikle's canoe.

Men's 50 yards Swim.—This was run off in heats. First heat, 1. J. Bayley; 2. H. Murdoch; Second heat, 1. R. Weddell; 2. H. Anderson. Final: 1. rug, J. Bayley; 2. electric fixture, R. Weddell; 3. golf stockings, H. Murdoch. Time: 27 and 1/5 secs.

25 yards Swim, for medals for the three youngest children completing the course.—Twelve entered the race. 1. medal, Joyce Francis; 2. medal, Patricia Acland. All the little swimmers completed the distance.

Men's Single Canoes, 220 yards.—Four competed, K. Brooker, M. Meikle, W. Knowles and F. Groves, and the contest was close. 1. fountain pen and stand, W. Knowles; 2. cake plate, F. Groves. Time: 1 min., 36 and 1/5 secs.

Winnie Roberts, 2. and Maud Kincaid, bow; Mrs. Wilson, stroke, Una DeHart, 2. Audrey Knox, 3. and Mrs. B. Burne, bow. 1. Miss Day's crew. Time: 4 mins., 3 and 4/5 secs.

25 yards Swim, children under 9.—Seven competed. 1. chocolates, Orville Watson; 2. chocolates, Marybelle Ryan; 3. chocolates, Joyce Carruthers. Time: 28 secs.

War Canoe Race.—Owing to the roughness of the water, this event was postponed till 7 p.m., when it was pulled off in the presence of a fair sized crowd of spectators. It was altered to one-half mile instead of three-quarters of a mile and there was only one turn instead of two turns. The race was between a war canoe manned by Scouts and Old Scouts, captained by W. Knowles, who received a handicap of fourteen seconds, and another war canoe manned by members of the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade, captained by N. DeHart, who won the contest by a margin of 15 seconds. Time: 4 mins., and 4-5 secs. The winning crew won the Willis Trophy and sets of pyjamas.

Fastest Gasoline Launch Race, for A. J. Jones Cup.—Only two launches entered the contest, the one securing first place leading by about a mile at the finish. 1. Cup and miniature, "Patella," H. C. Dziel; 2. cut glass bowl, "Otter," B. Cookson.

Animal Race.—No less than five heats had to be run off in this competition, which consisted in mounting the rubber animals belonging to the Aquatic Association and riding them from one raft to another. The animals were two alligators, and a swan, a whale, a duck and a frog. Several boys and girls who did not follow the rules laid down were disqualified, though they reached the end of the course first or second. The race greatly amused the spectators, there being some queer tumbles and splashes and much confusion at times. Those who captured the prizes were experts at sitting on the animals and paddling themselves along quietly. "Darkie," Mr. A. D. Marshall's dog, which retrieved the "duck" at the end of the contest, received as much applause as any swimmer of the day. 1. bathing suit, Joyce Crichton, on a crocodile; 2. chocolates, H. Ryan, on a whale; 3. chocolates, S. Wilson, on a seal.

Boys' Relay Swim, 120 yards, under 16 years.—1. pearl knives, R. Longley, H. Anderson, H. Ryan, F. Taggart; 2. I. Beamore, D. Gale, W. Sands, G. Renals.

Men's Relay Race, 120 yards.—This was a fine race in which the following teams competed: V. D. Lewis, R. Weddell, D. Hinkson, J. Williams; E. Williams, H. Anderson, K. Griffith, J. Bayley; H. Murdoch, L. Williams, L. Leathley, G. C. Wade. 1. pyjamas, V. D. Lewis' team. Time: 1 min., 5 and 2/5 secs.

Ladies' Relay Swim, 120 yards.—Four teams competed, the winners capturing the race easily. 1. bloomers, Misses A. Curtis, D. Burtch, K. Ryan and M. Burtch; 2. Misses M. Aitken, F. Lewers, A. Hughes and E. Hayman. Time: 1 min., 24 secs.

C. Orchardists, Ltd.; The Kelowna Growers' Exchange, Ltd.; The Federated Orchardists, Ltd. (Pentiction); The Commercial Orchardists, Ltd.; The Okanagan Packers, Ltd.; and Sales Service, Ltd.

The contest was an uneven one, many paddlers meeting with disaster while the more lucky ones made quietly but with fair speed to the goal. 1. handbag, D. Lucas, for the Commercial Orchardists; 2. thermos, H. Ryan, for the B. C. Orchardists; 3. fishing rod and reel, W. Cross, for the Okanagan Packers.
